Selectman Retires

Lack of Interchange Was Disappointment

Col. Edward M. Harris said good-bye to his colleagues on the Board of Selectmen Monday night, as the six-year veteran of the board attended his last selectmen's meeting before the March 28 town election.

Harris said he is stepping down after two terms with regret: "I have appreciated working with all the people on the board. I've enjoyed it very much." The selectman added his appreciation for the cooperation of Town Manager Kenneth Mahony.

The colonel said he was disappointed that Lowell Junction still has no Route 93 interchange, a project he has been working on for several years. State officials told him this week the state is developing a new set of priorities for work on the I-93 corridor, something that was done three years ago — with Lowell Junction near the top of the list.

"It's very depressing," Harris told the board. "I hate to leave the board with this state of affairs."

On a happier note, Chairman Norma Gammon thanked Harris on behalf of the town for "the outstanding service you have given. You are going to be very sorely missed." She said the selectman was "always there to help," particularly in his role as secretary for the board.

And she announced that Harris will take a new position, with the Andover Historical Commission, "so he is not leaving his voice and his input into the town. His voice will be strongly heard."

The board closed their meeting (before adjourning to an executive session on negotiations and financial arrangements) with coffee and a cake for Col. Harris. The blue and white cake was decorated with the words "Thank You."

They maintained that the issue is "not closed," but two of the School Committee members who voted to close the West Traditional program two weeks ago stood by their vote Tuesday night.

Despite a recommendation from the superintendent to leave the traditional program intact while the administration develops alternatives for elementary education — and despite the urging of several parents in the audience — Michael Giammusso and Robert Smith did not move to reconsider their March 1 vote to close the program.

(Donald Robb, who moved to close the program two weeks ago, was absent Tuesday night.)

Chairman Richard Neal, who along with Susan Poore voted against the closing, explained that the committee's rules of order require a member of the majority vote to move to reconsider a vote.

Poore argued against that rule of order, saying that "three people are overruling a recommendation of the superintendent and quite a number of people this evening. We now have a three-member school committee vis-a-vis this issue — and I think that's patently wrong."

She also urged the committee to rescind its March 1 vote based on a committee policy that all policy issues should be decided in two steps — an informational meeting followed by action at a subsequent meeting — and that the policy decision should be announced in advance of any vote.

The committee's vote on the traditional program closing was "a major policy decision" made without that two-step process and without notice to the public, Poore said.

But Smith said the two-step process was required only for policies included in the school committee's policy handbook, and the traditional program is not one of those. Neal agreed with that point, while Giammusso said that process would "hamstring" the committee.

And both Smith and Giammusso maintained that the committee had stated its intention to discuss the traditional program before the March 1 meeting: "It was no secret that the traditional program would be discussed and would be coming up," Giammusso said.

Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert called the traditional program "a political football that's destroying our town," and said discussion of closing the program has been "more political than substantive." He recommended looking at the traditional program as one alternative when the committee reviews all the alternatives for elementary education.

The superintendent said the four elementary school principals "ought to put their heads together" and decide "what each school will provide. We will look at the curricula from a fresh start."

In the meantime, Seifert suggested leaving the traditional program intact. "Why don't we leave it in? We can look at what the other four schools will offer and then make a decision."

At the start of the discussion, which lasted nearly two and one-half hours, Seifert presented results of elementary achievement tests to illustrate "the tremendous range in student abilities." Reading and math tests given to third- and eighth-graders last year show a range of 60 to 70 percent of the students at the average grade level for Andover students; 16 to 34 percent below average; and zero to 24 percent above average.

The needs of those children who fall above or below the average are "not being met," the superintendent said, by the traditional or the contemporary program. "It is difficult to differentiate between the two programs," Seifert added. "There is no contemporary program and never has been. There is more flexibility in some schools than others."

In light of the superintendent's recom-

Library Receives Memorial

Memorial Hall Library has been presented with a generous gift from the estate of a Florida man, in memory of his wife.

George M. Wakefield of Lakeland, Florida has left Andover's public library $28,940, to be used to establish the Helen A.B. Robertson Memorial Fund. Income from the bequest is to be used for the purchase of new books.

Library Director Nancy Jacobson has found that little is known about the Wakefield family locally, but because Phillips Academy was also left a bequest she believes Mr. Wakefield's wife was a graduate of Abbot Academy. The director says she assumes that as an Abbot student, Helen Robertson enjoyed studying at Memorial Hall Library.

Learning Disabled Meeting

The Andover Public Schools invite parents of learning disabled students to a discussion of "Life After High School" on Thursday, March 24. Several recent Andover High graduates who participated in the Learning Disabilities Program and who are currently either in college or working will informally share some of their experiences. A brief movie will also be shown. Any family member or interested person is welcome.

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Peer Counseling Room at Andover High School.

Video Games Already Under Statute

Town Counsel has found that Andover doesn't really need a bylaw to regulate video games, but can operate under state laws on the subject, the town manager told the selectmen Monday night.

The board has been thinking of writing a new bylaw for some time, and put a moratorium on issuing new video game licenses until they settled the question.

But Town Manager Kenneth Mahony

this week recommended, on the advice of legal counsel, that the board continue to consider each application for a license on its own merits. The board should operate under state laws, and clearly state their rules, he added.

Mahony said the two or three license requests currently on hold would be brought before the board in the near future, pending updated reports from the Police and Fire departments.

Selectmen Recognize AAUW Group

Andover has joined the state in declaring March 13-19 American Association of University Women (AAUW) Week.

Governor Dukakis has proclaimed this week AAUW Week, and Monday night the selectmen voted to make that proclamation as well.

Their proclamation recognizes the organization for 102 years of working "for the advancement of women, their recognition as first-class citizens, with equal opportunity and the right to choose from many alternate careers and lifestyles."

The AAUW has an Andover-Georgetown branch: Barbara Philadvala of Agawam Lane is vice president of programs, and Dr. Allase Bruce of Rose Glen Drive is vice president of membership.

High School Groups Plan Weekend Cabaret

The music and drama groups of Andover High School will present Spring Cabaret on Friday, March 18, and Saturday, March 19, in the parish hall of South Church at 8 p.m. Under the direction of Keith Gould and Bob King, the cabaret will be the initial fund raiser for the purchase of new choir robes for the high school choral groups.

Solos, duets, skits, A Cappella and Madrigal choirs, Bell Choir and the High School Stage Band will provide a potpourri of entertainment. Ellen Perry, John Driscoll and A.J. Sullivan will serve as hosts. The performers will serve refreshments at intermission.

Tickets may be purchased from any choral student or at the door.

Reading a letter aloud to a group, broadcasting it on the air, showing it on a television screen, or posting it in a public place, may constitute publication in a legal sense.

League To Conduct Units On Warrant

Town Meeting Warrant Units will be held by the League of Women Voters of Andover on Tuesday, March 22, at 9:15 a.m. and Thursday, March 24, at 7:30 p.m. Hostess for the Tuesday meeting is Linda Cassily, 7 Sevilla (off Pleasant Street) West Andover, while Thursday's is Marilyn Brody, 3 Carriage Hill, Andover. Child care for preschool children will be provided free to members for the morning session, if arrangements are made by Sunday evening with Barbara Worcester.

The League Observer Corps, chaired by Valerie Swett Nigh, will present information pertinent to items on the town warrant in preparation for Town Meeting which convenes Monday, April 4. New residents to Andover may wish to avail themselves of one of these units to better understand the dynamics of Andover's annual Town Meeting.

Special emphasis will be given to items for which the League holds positions since membership consensus on these items could result in League action to either support or oppose individual items during the meeting. Of note are: No. 33—Playing field improvements; No. 38-43—Acquisition of conservation land; No. 48—Planning Board zoning bylaw for gravel removal; No. 49—Privat article, additional sub-section of No. 48 calling for an impact policy; No. 54—sale-lease of property behind library; No.

55—proposed town parking lot; and No. 56—$1 million for widening River Road.

The warrant units are the initial events presented as a service to members and townspeople to prepare them for involvement in town government. Other events will include a candidate's coffee on Saturday, March 26, at the Andover Savings Bank, a candidate's information sheet published by the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, and poll precincting on election day, Monday, March 28.

Tucker Sponsors Bill To Equalize State Pays

In celebration of International Women's Day and Women's History Week, members of the Massachusetts Women's Legislative Caucus have announced their 1983 legislative agenda.

State Representative and caucus member Sue Tucker of Andover said several key bills aimed at strengthening the family and improving conditions for women will receive active support from the caucus.

Thirty-two state legislators—nearly one-sixth of the entire legislature—belong to the caucus, which was founded in 1975 to focus attention on issues relating to women.

Tucker has co-sponsored one of the caucus' major legislative priorities for 1983—a bill calling for a study of pay discrepancies between men and women who work for the state government.

She and fellow caucus members also are working for passage of a bill that would eliminate gender as a basis for premium and benefit differences in pensions and in life and health insurance.

According to Tucker, gender-based insurance rates and benefits are unlawful under the state constitution's Equal Rights Amendment.

Tucker and other caucus members also are supporting legislation that would provide job training for women who suddenly lose the income on which they have lived due to divorce, separation or death of their spouse.

"This bill would give women the opportunity to become self-supporting, not welfare-dependent," Tucker said.

Another bill supported by Tucker and the caucus would create a tax credit for parents whose children participate in day-care programs.

"With 55 percent of American mothers—and nearly 100 percent of fathers—working outside the home, day-care occupies an important place in our society," Tucker said. "This legislation would help parents defray the cost of this essential service."

Lobby For Nuclear Freeze

Three area individuals were among the delegates from the Fifth Congressional District who went to Washington, D.C. last week to lobby for a bi-lateral nuclear freeze resolution scheduled to be voted on in the House this week.

Rev. James Keller of North Andover, Thomas Meyers and Ann Guzowski of Andover met with Fifth District Congressman James J. Shannon and also Sens. Kennedy and Tsongas, since the resolutions will be before the Senate in July.

Both House resolutions are non-binding, but if passed will serve to send a message to the President the the legislative branch is in favor of the nuclear weapons freeze.

Bi-lateral freeze resolutions have passed in ten of 11 states and in over 500 cities and towns throughout the nation.

Career Workshop Offered

Project Discovery Expanded, a career-related program at Andover High School, is sponsoring a workshop, "Career Development—A Process of Self-Management." Andover High School juniors are invited to participate. There will be four two-hour sessions at the high school. The first session will be Wednesday, March 30, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The second and third sessions will be held during the week of April and the fourth session will be the week of April 11. Specific dates will be decided upon by the workshop participants and leaders.

The workshop goal is to help the participants gain an awareness of themselves in order to focus for future planning. Utilizing group exercises and informal presentation, the following topics will be covered: self-knowledge, interests, skills, abilities, career possibilities, career investigation and future planning. A process of self-management will help to bring order to what can be a confusing time for high school juniors. This is an opportunity to gain information and understanding that will assist students in making future educational or career plans.

All interested juniors should sign up with the guidance department secretary, Kathy Henze, before Wednesday, March 23. Space will be limited to the first 20 students to sign up.

Sally Spencer, Betsy Hansen and Tina Girdwood, trained workshop leaders, will conduct this program.

Appalachian To Be Featured In Presentation

"Hiking the Appalachian Trail," a slide presentation by Albie Pokrob of the Mount Washington Observatory, will be featured at a meeting of the Appalachian Mountain Club - Andover Committee on Tuesday, April 12. This meeting, on the 49th anniversary of Mt. Washington's record-high winds of 234 miles per hour, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of South Church, Central and School Streets, Andover. For information, contact Lee Dodd at Lee Dodd Realty.

Pokrob, a veteran of two 2,000-mile hikes along the Appalachian Trail, is part of the Mount Washington Observatory team which records what are unquestionably some of the most severe weather conditions in the world. For almost three years he has been spending every other week atop the high peak under conditions which most of us would consider impossible to survive in. While Pokrob says it is hard to actually describe the experience, his enthusiasm for the rugged life of a mountaineer is apparent when he talks of the beauty and quiet of the mountain. The isolation and solitude of such living conditions is obviously an attraction to Pokrob. He makes the listener sense the potential for natural beauty under even such extreme conditions as he describes a full moon softly illuminating the "frost feathers" created by rime ice.

Pokrob's love of all aspects of natural history, particularly botany, his experience of mountaineering, his talent for photography and his love of people make the job which may seem to others akin to a sentence in a Siberian labor camp a true joy to Pokrob. Pokrob spends much time hiking for sheer enjoyment. He says that hiking is a great equalizer of people and you couldn't meet nicer people anywhere. About New England, Pokrob says that the beauty of the mountains and the congeniality of the people here could not be duplicated anywhere else in the world.

Firefighter John Garabedian Honored

The Andover Fire Department gathered at the West Andover Fire Station last week to make fourteen-year-old John Garabedian an honorary member of the department. The party was planned for John by Lt. Charles Murnane and firefighters George Thompson and David Lynch. John, 212 Chandler Road, has been visiting the fire station for many years and has developed a close friendship with many members of the department. He is scheduled to undergo open heart surgery this week. The festivities were noted with several gifts, cake and refreshments for the many friends and relatives that attended. The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra will continue its season with a "Spring Popular Favorites Concert" Sunday, March 27, at the Andover West Junior High School Auditorium, Shawsheen Road, at 3:30 p.m.

Richard Wilson of the music staff of Phillips Andover Academy, who has led the Philharmonic in two earlier concerts this season, will again officiate as guest conductor in a varied program of classical, semi-classical, light opera and Broadway musical works. Major Wojtkun Family Accorded Honors

The Major Gregory Wojtkun family, formerly of Andover, was given a special certificate signed by Mrs. Nancy Reagan in "Sincere Appreciation for the Wojtkun's Outstanding Contributions as a Family to Improve the Camp Zama community and to Strengthen America" in a ceremony held recently at the U.S. Army Garrison Honshu Conference Room, Camp Zama, Japan.

Similar ceremonies were held in other communities across the country in conjunction with National Family Week, launching nationwide the first annual "Great American Family" awards program. Directed by the American Family Society, under the honorary chairmanship of the first lady, the program seeks to recognize those families that have served and sacrificed for their communities in remarkable ways.

Various national organizations, including the U.S. Army Japan/IX Corps, are cooperating in the selection procedure, which will eventually narrow the field down to nine of America's finest families. Conceivably, the Wojtkun family could be one of those ultimately chosen to meet with Mrs. Reagan this spring in a special White House Rose Garden ceremony, as well as receive national attention in magazines and on television.

The actual award certificates, signed by Mrs. Nancy Reagan and the local commander, will be sent by mail.

Wayland To Conduct AIM Program

Adventures In Music presents "Whales, Wolves And Wild Things" at the Reading High School auditorium on Sunday, March 20. This visual extravaganza utilizes film clips and slides of children's drawings to embellish the performance of the AIM Symphony Orchestra. Many Andover children hold season tickets for the 2 p.m. performance; there is also a show at 4 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

In addition to live symphonic music, "Whales, Wolves And Wild Things" will incorporate voices of singing whales and film clips of humpback whales swimming in the Pacific Ocean. Art Coordinator Martha Quigley will direct a visual display of children's artwork, accompanying the music of "E.T.," "Jaws" and "The Waltzing Cat."

The live AIM Orchestra will accompany the classic cartoon of the "Poet and Peasant Overture," Andy Panda conducting. The animated feature was produced at Universal Studios by Walter Lantz and received an Academy Award nomination.

Newton Wayland returns from his new home in California to conduct the 50-piece orchestra. Wayland is Pops conductor of the Oakland Symphony, as well as music director of the Midwest Pops Orchestra. This year marks Wayland's 11th season as musical director of the Adventures In Music concert series.

AIM is a non-profit organization which presents professional concerts of artistic and educational value to children and their parents. AIM is funded in part by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts, a state agency. For further information, contact Andover representative Hilda Willard or Stephanie Krauson.

Day Care Centers Receive Funding

Dr. Mary Jane England, commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Social Services, announced the signing of a number of service contract awards to day care agencies in the Greater Lawrence Area.

Julie Hardin, area director, welcomed the contracts for fiscal year 1983-84.

"More than 340 children will benefit from the services provided by these contracted agencies," said Hardin. "With professional day care, these children will receive attention and care while their parents develop skills or earn family income."

Joining Dr. England and Hardin in announcing the contracts as Pamela Abernathy, program development specialist for the Greater Lawrence Area.

"The Essex County-Merrimack Valley region is the second largest in the state in terms of population," said Abernathy, "and there is great need for day care, particularly in the Lawrence area. We are pleased to be working with five agencies."

Communities included in the Greater Lawrence Area are Andover, Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover.

The Department of Social Services (DSS) is the agency which provides services such as foster care, foster care training, day care, day care training, protective services and family support and counseling services to children and families in Massachusetts. DSS was created by the legislature in 1980 to provide locally-based social services.

Wolf Kahn Speaker For Focus On Art

Andover Fine Arts will have internationally acclaimed artist, Wolf Kahn, as the speaker for the Focus On Art series Sunday, March 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the Andover Gallery, 68 Park St., Andover.

A member of the group of younger Expressionists in New York in the 1950s, Kahn continues to relate the abstract in painting to the representation of nature in his New England landscapes. His paintings of the Vermont countryside, glowing in early morning or late afternoon light, are full of the subtleties of color changes and relationships of form in space. Kahn is widely regarded as one of the leading and most influential contemporary painters of landscape.

Some recent oils and pastels will be on exhibit at the Andover Gallery in conjunction with his talk. Seating is limited and reservations are suggested. There will be a fee for non-subscribers to the Focus On Art series. Further information is available by calling Joan Bragen or Howard Yezerski at the Andover Gallery.

To Discuss Coping With Mental Illness

The Merrimack Valley Advocacy For Mental Health will present the program "Coping Strategies For Relatives Of The Mentally Ill" on Tuesday, March 22, 7:15 p.m. at the Lawrence Savings Bank "Community Room," located at 342 North Main St. (Shawsheen) in Andover.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Henry C. Everett, a psychiatrist in private practice in Andover. He is a graduate of Harvard University and Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. Currently, he is also a consultant at the Greater Lawrence Mental Health Center.

The program will explore some of the problems of human co-existence with individuals with troubled minds by families with loyalty and patience.

There will be focus on how family members can more effectively cope with passivity/dependency or abnoxiousness/aggressiveness personalities that tend to complicate the art of living with a troubled person. Families are no longer perceived as being responsible for the origins and continuation of their relative's psychiatric problems.

A question and answer period is also planned.

Coming events include speaker Sen. Patricia McGovern on April 26. She will address mental health issues in Massachusetts.

The Merrimack Valley Advocacy For Mental Health are members of Alliance for the Mentally Ill of Massachusetts, Inc., and the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill.

Lemon juice will produce writing which is invisible when dry but which stands out in brown when the paper is warmed.

Registration Open For YMCA Camp

Camp Lawrence, owned and operated by the Greater Lawrence YMCA on Bear Island, Lake Winnepesaukee, is accepting registrations for the 1983 season. Camp Lawrence, now entering its 76th season, provides a camping experience for boys ages 8-15.

Among the activities offered are sailing, canoeing, archery and riflery, windsurfing and water-skiing and a wide variety of athletics. An extensive outcamping program is offered. Under trained leaders, small groups of boys hike, canoe or cycle through the White Mountain National Forest for up to five days at a time.

Alan B. Douglass, the camp director, has been dedicated to the ideals and spirit of camping for more than 40 years, believing that camping offers a unique growth and learning experience for children. Camping provides boys a chance to develop skills and interests which in many cases will be useful for the rest of their lives. It is one of the few experiences in life which provides a progressive leadership training.

For more information, call the Greater Lawrence YMCA. Camping Service's also operates Camp Nokomis for girls and the Lawrence YMCA Day Camp for boys and girls.

mentations, a number of parents in the West Junior High auditorium urged the schoolmen to reconsider their vote to close the program.

Deborah Blais of West Parish Drive told the committee their vote was taken without "enough time to evaluate the alternatives and the impact" of closing the traditional program.

Joseph Howard of Livingston Circle said the committee should rescind their vote and "start from an equal basis" to look at all the elementary alternatives.

And Elaine Goodman of Landau Lane said that while she was neither for nor against the program, the problem of providing for students' individual learning styles is "not a budget issue, but an educational issue, and a chronic issue. Maybe we do need a fresh start."

Chairman Neal said the administration had been left "a lot of latitude" to develop alternatives, and the committee will look at those alternatives in the weeks ahead. "We will discuss the Andover elementary program for the future — and it may or may not include a traditional program," Neal said.

When questioned by parents, Giammusso said, "The discussion will go on. This issue is ongoing." But he indicated that he would prefer to continue the discussion with the vote to close the traditional program intact.

The schoolman said his decision was "independent of economics. It's time for this system to come together under one umbrella. The committee will demand that the administration follow through and see that the needs of all the children in Andover are being met."

Smith agreed that "the issue is not closed." He said that future reports from the principals and "creative thinking" from the administration could change his thinking: "I have an open mind."

But John Ardini of Brady Loop pointed out that the committee's decision is "already effecting people," because parents can't enroll their children in the traditional program for next year. "This can lead to confusion," he said. "It's upsetting people. I'd rather get there gradually."

Jacqueline Rizzo of Matthew Street asked the committee to clarify the traditional program's clouded future: "Is the traditional program gone? Is it on hold? Is it dead, or is it tabled?" she asked.

Neal told her that with the March 1 vote still standing, the traditional program "is not in effect for next year" — except for fifth- and sixth-graders, who will continue in the program as it is phased out.

Selectmen Reduce Requests To Meet FinCom Standards

To bring their recommendations in line with those of the Finance Committee, the selectmen Monday night agreed to reduce their requests for appropriations in two town meeting articles, including one for improvements to River Road.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony explained that during a Saturday meeting, the FinComm agreed with most of the selectmen's proposals, but voted to reduce the River Road article from $1 million to $400,000, and an article on improvements to Spring Grove Cemetery from $250,000 to $150,000.

The manager said it would "make sense" for the selectmen to go along with the finance committee and present uniform recommendations to town meeting, which convenes April 4.

Bringing the appropriation for River Road improvements (Article 56) down to $400,000 would fund a design review and a study of what land acquisitions might be necessary, the manager explained. When those plans are complete, town officials may return to town meeting for additional funding to undertake the project, he said.

The selectmen agreed to reduce the amount requested for cemetery improvements (Article 45) more reluctantly. Mahony said that funding would pay for most of the work originally planned, but less work on roads and paths. The town could come back for additional funding in the future if necessary, he added.

Chairman Norma Gammon voted against reducing that request, saying she was "not happy" with the possibility that work needed at the cemetery might not be done. Donn Byrne voted for the reduction "a little bit reluctantly," because he agreed with Gammon that "long-term improvements" are needed at Spring Grove.

Recycling Sale-A-Bration Set

The 1983 Giant Recycling Sale-A-Bration, sponsored by Andover Recycling, Inc., will be held Saturday, May 14. Again this year, through the generosity of Phillips Academy, the sale will take place in the large dining room at old Draper Hall on the Abbot Academy campus on School Street in Andover. Hours will be announced later.

Since last fall friends of recycling have been donating items to the recycling sale-a-bration. Already on hand are children's furniture, a day bed, storm windows, shower enclosures and numerous other items gently used and thoughtfully donated for use by a new owner.

Sale-a-bration patrons can enjoy food and plant sales and information booths run by Andover's environmental organizations and garden clubs. Flea market space will be available for a small fee and large items in superior condition may be consigned. The remains of garage sales will be gratefully accepted.

For further information, call Mrs. James Beattie, Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck or any recycling information numbers listed on the recycling calendar.

Auditorium Will Be Ready For Town Meeting

Very little work remains to be done at Doherty Junior High School's Memorial Auditorium, and renovations there will "absolutely" be complete before annual town meeting convenes on April 4, the school building project manager reported this week.

Project Manager William Mansell said Peabody Construction has only a general clean-up and final details to take care of next week before the auditorium will be ready for use. The contractor ran into no special problems during the renovations, he added.

Work on the Everett J. Collins Auditorium at Andover High is also moving along "very well," the project manager said: "Progress has been quite rapid during the last two or three weeks." Problems encountered during early work at that site have been "ironed out," he said. "It's now running smoothly."

Mansell expects the new auditorium to be finished by the end of July at the latest.

At the Doherty, which has been open since last fall, only a "few little bugs in the communication system" — including the clocks and intercoms — need to be corrected, Mansell said.

And at West Junior High, where a new Instructional Materials Center (I.M.C.) is also in use, only a small amount of exterior work remains to be done; that work will be completed this spring.

The contractor is running ahead of his original schedule, Mansell pointed out, although about two months behind a revised schedule that called for completion of Memorial Auditorium renovations by January of this year.

Recycling Calendars To Be Mailed Soon

"Glass is not Trash," the new 1983-84 recycling and refuse collection information sheet, reminds Andover residents who will receive this flyer and the latest recycling calendar along with their tax bills in the next few weeks.

Following the whimsical trail of glass recycling possibilities designed by Margaret Pustell, Lolli Sumberg and Peggy Hutchins, one discovers that Andover Recycling wants pickle jars, cologne bottles, baby food jars, wine bottles and more than 18 other kinds of glass containers specified.

Newspapers, magazines and corrugated cardboard are also welcome recyclable materials collected more efficiently than ever with the contractor's new packer truck. Certain types of paper are not acceptable, however, including mail and cereal and detergent boxes.

The recycling calendar contains information on both sides of a nine-by-four-inch card that can be posted conveniently on bulletin board or refrigerator for handy reference. Andover Savings Bank and Lawrence Savings Bank donated the printing of these calendars.

Apartment dwellers and people who rent can pick up the calendar and flyer in Town Hall during and after the last week in March.

March 14-17 is a recycling week for paper and glass.

DIET FACTS & FALLACIES

ARE YOU A VICTIM OF THE "YO-YO" SYNDROME?

Do you feel as though you are constantly on a diet? That, you keep losing and gaining the same ten pounds? That, no matter what you do, you will never be slim?

If so, you may be a victim of what has been termed the "yo-yo" syndrome. People have been dieting for years, seeking every solution imaginable to magically burn off extra pounds. Each year, BILLIONS of dollars are spent on diet pills, foods, books, magazines and exercise equipment. Unfortunately, few of these so-called solutions work on a permanent basis.

What is the secret for success? Diet Center believes the only solution is PERMANENT WEIGHT CONTROL. You can gain this control by becoming nutritionally aware of what, and how, you eat. Stop counting calories! Instead, ensure your body receives adequate nutrients. Follow a diet that includes fresh fruits and vegetables, lean meats, whole grains and polyunsaturated fats.

You, too, can conquer the "yo-yo" syndrome. Start today by calling your local Diet Center for more information.

Parish Renewal Planned

Rev. Joseph S. Mostardi, OSA

Rev. Joseph S. Mostardi, OSA, will conduct St. Augustine's annual Parish Renewal March 20-23 at 7:30 p.m. at the church, 43 Essex St., Andover. The renewal will be based on the Parish's Lenten theme, "Behold I Make All Things New."

Fr. Mostardi has been a member of the Augustinian Community for 16 years. He professed his vows in the fall of 1968. After receiving a B.A. degree from Villanova and an M.A. degree in Theology from the Washington Theological Union, he was ordained a priest in 1975. He spent his first years working as an assistant pastor in a parish on Staten Island after which he became director of youth programs at Mt. Augustine Retreat House.

In 1980 Fr. Mostardi was assigned as chaplain for the Augustinian High School in Drexel Hill, Penna., and in 1981 was also assigned as vocation director for the Province of St. Thomas of Villanova.

Brass Quartet To Assist At Worship Service

The Gordon College Brass Quartet, under the direction of David Rox, will participate in the 10:30 a.m. worship service at South Church 41 Central St., Sunday.

The Gordon College Brass Quartet is a chamber ensemble composed of students, both music and non-music majors. In its first year of organization, they have performed extensively at churches in the Greater Boston area. Concert repertoire ranges from classical compositions to gospel hymn arrangements and other popular selections.

Rox, an experienced trombone performer who holds music degrees from Gordon College and Boston University, also serves as the instructor of music and conductor of the Wind and Jazz Ensembles at Gordon College.

Members performing Sunday are Preston Mason (trumpet), Kevin Bernard (trumpet), Margaret Stanton (trombone) and Glenn Ekholm (trombone).

The Quartet's music serves to "enhance worship and strengthen the Lord's people, while proclaiming His love to the world," and "to glorify God and His Son, Jesus Christ, through a unique ministry of sharing and music."

To Give Lecture On Death

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover will present a lecture, "Explaining Death to Children and to Ourselves," by Rabbi Earl Grollman of Belmont on Wednesday, March 30, at 8 p.m. at the November Club, 6 Locke St., Andover.

Born in Baltimore, MD, Dr. Grollman attended the University of Maryland and the University of Cincinnati. He was ordained in 1950 from Hebrew Union College. In 1964 he received Doctor of Divinity degree from Portia Law School in recognition of outstanding spiritual leadership. He was awarded another Doctor of Divinity in 1975 from the Hebrew Union College as "distinguished rabbi who with a deep commitment has exercised a noble influence on his people and his community, whose incisive writings and lectures have opened new dimensions in the field of counseling." Dr. Grollman did graduate work at Boston University School of Theology and School of Legal Medicine.

He is a pioneer in family crisis intervention and is internationally known for his work on dying, death and bereavement. As a counselor and author Dr. Grollman has explored many aspects of death and dying from the perspective of parent, child and spouse. Some of his books include "Talking About Death," "Living—When A Loved One Has Died," "Suicide: Prevention, Intervention, Postvention," "Explaining Divorce to Children." He is a contributor to scores of professional publications.

As a much-demanded lecturer, Dr. Grollman has addressed audiences at Harvard College, Yale Divinity School, University of Minnesota, Medical College of Ohio, Yeshiva University, Hebrew Union College in Los Angeles, Tufts, Boston College School of Nursing, University of Cincinnati Medical School and others. He has appeared frequently on television talk shows throughout the country and is a member of the Bereavement Team of the Community School of Psychiatry at Harvard University.

Dr. Grollman will speak to the needs of all who sooner or later must face the death and dying process. It will be of special interest to those involved in the hospice movement throughout our communities and to professionals in the health care system.

Tickets can be reserved by contacting Mrs. Robert H. Stier, Jr. or Mrs. Richard Bates of Andover or through the church office, 28 Florence St., Andover. As space permits, tickets will also be sold at the door.

Program Focuses On Catholicism

Atty. William E. Melahn of the Andover Council, No. 1078, Knights of Columbus, announced a special program to be held at the Andover Council, Osgood Street, on March 23 at 8 p.m.

Presented in conjunction with the Catholic League, the program will focus on anti-Catholicism in America past and present.

There will be a discussion of the transportation rights of parochial school students and the status of tuition tax credits in the U.S. Congress. "Anti-Catholicism is still a serious problem in this country. Sometimes slurs against Catholics are unintended but more often they are quite deliberate. The League presentation illustrates some current problems which should disturb all concerned citizens." The public is invited.

Nutrition Wisdom

"For a Health Plus—Say Yes to Less" is this year's theme by the American Dietetic Association.

The dieticians at Choate-Symmes Health Services, Inc. in Woburn advise, "Don't totally cut out your favorites, just say less fat, less salt and less sugar."

To decrease fat in the diet, they advise homemakers to trim fat from meat, poultry and fish, do more broiling, baking and poaching and less frying and cut back on butter, margarine, fats or oil for frying, or try light sauteing or a fat-free spray.

A 'light touch' is advised when adding dressings or sauces, and families should be encouraged to cut down on the amount of butter or sour cream on their potatoes, dressing them up instead with a wisp of basil, chives or dill.

"Easy on the shaker" should be house rules. Enjoy the natural taste of food or concoct your own combination of herbs and spices. Cut down on hot dogs, bacon and other processed meats, packaged gravy and seasoning mixes and packaged soups.

Like salt, try using less sugar in tea and coffee, on breakfast cereals and fruits. Fruit yogurts and frozen treats hide a heap of sugar.

Green Space Acreage Included In 19-Lot Cluster Plan

Preliminary plans for a 19-lot cluster subdivision near the Tewksbury line won the Planning Board's approval last week, while a public hearing was held on plans for another proposed subdivision.

The planners last Tuesday approved developer Arthur Kalogianis' revised plans for "Clearview Acres," a 19-lot cluster to be built on a 20-acre site off Blanchard Street, near the Tewksbury line. The subdivision, on the site of a former gravel pit, will include six acres of permanent green space.

The planners had denied the original preliminary plans for the subdivision several weeks ago because they wanted the builder to include a larger buffer zone between the new homes and a Blanchard Street piggery.

Kalogianis must now return to the board with definitive plans.

Abutter Stanley Nabydoski of Blanchard Street told the planners a U.S. Corps of Engineers study done for Tewksbury had found a large underground lake under the site; he suggested that it might be needed as a source of future water supplies.

Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore said the developer would be asked to get some indication from the neighboring town on whether they are interested in the site as a water supply.

The board also held a brief public hearing on definitive plans for the "Golden Oaks" subdivision proposed by developer George Chongris for a 40-acre site off High Plain Road, near Penni Lane.

Engineer Gene Nysten of Nysten Engineering, representing Chongris, said ten acres of open space would be left in the 33-lot development, which would be served by town water and have a subsurface disposal system. Six of the lots would be conventional lots, and the rest would be clustered.

Nysten said the development would drain into an existing swamp southeast of the property, and eventually into Haggetts Pond.

Two abutters told the planners they have no objections to and foresee no problems with the proposed development.

The board has a March 29 deadline for approving the plan.

They also granted an extension on "Sherborne Park," a proposed cluster development to be built off Gray and Salem streets. The Conservation Commission has requested that one cul-de-sac in that development be redesigned to remove it from a wetlands area, Gilmore explained.

The deadline for acting on that plan was extended from March 8 to March 23.

Softwoods — including spruces, firs and cedars — predominate the western half of the United States.

Neighbors Of Proposed Garage Prefer Surface Parking Lot

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Residents of the Whittier Street area would rather see a surface parking lot than a three-level parking garage at the Heartland Jr. site, a spokesman told the selectmen Monday night — and they may try to amend Article 55 on the floor of town meeting to eliminate the garage proposal.

A proposed amendment, drawn by the town manager at the residents' request, could ask for $750,000 to fund a surface parking lot, in place of the current request for a $2 million appropriation to build a three-level garage.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony emphasized that he does not support that amendment, partly because it would yield only about 150 parking spaces compared to 436 in the garage.

He added that it would complicate a land swap with owners of the Heartland property — who plan to build a shopping center behind Town Hall — because it "wouldn't be a clean swap."

But James Fraser of Whittier Street, speaking for 35 neighborhood residents, said if town meeting has to vote on the land swap and garage in one article, his neighborhood group will oppose the article.

Robert Webster and Robert Finlayson of Bartlet Realty Trust own the Heartland property, and had planned to renovate the former grocery store into a retail and office center. But they have agreed to swap their 1.5-acre property for the one-acre Town Hall parking lot site, because town officials believe the Heartland property is better suited to a garage than the Town Hall site.

Article 55 will ask voters to approve the land swap, as well as appropriate funds for the $3.2 million garage. The balance of the funding will come from $1.2 million in state grants that Andover has already received.

"Everything is moving much too fast," Fraser told the selectmen. "We would prefer to have more time, so we could be more informed." Using the Heartland property for surface parking "temporarily" would "give us more time," he said.

Fraser added that the cost of the garage is "more than the town should spend — it's not warranted at this time."

The town manager explained that without the garage, the town would have to pay Bartlet Realty Trust some money for their land, because it would not be "an even swap." The state grants cannot be used for land acquisition, he said.

He added that if the town decided to build a garage at a future date, the entire surface lot would have to be removed to make way for supports and an underground level.

Thomas Tsepas of Whittier Street told the board he favored the land swap, because he would "rather have the town control the land in our backyards."

But Tsepas also pointed out that a 436-car garage would "create an awful lot of traffic." He advocated waiting until town offices have been moved to East Junior High's former wings to see how much parking will be needed downtown: "I'd much rather wait and see what happens after the move."

Debbie Moggio of Hidden Road said the municipal lot near Olde Andover Village would be a "more logical" site for a garage because that area is less residential than the Heartland site, located off Bartlet Street.

She added that the swap seemed to favor the developers, because they would gain a better location plus the use of a parking garage.

The manager told her the municipal lot is not fit for a garage for a number of reasons, among them the fact that access to that lot is at Main Street's "most congested points," and a garage there would be "literally in the backyard" of abutting homes.

And he said the developers "stand to gain some things and lose some things": They would lose control of their parking, for example.

"This exchange is subject to the selectmen's approval, and they would not allow it if it were not equitable," Mahony said. "It is not an intention of the selectmen or of mine to harm any part of the community to the benefit of another part."

Chairman Norma Gammon added that some residents have asked her why the town would "subsidize" downtown merchants by building a garage.

The garage would not just benefit businesses, but would be "one more service for people trying to get into the downtown area," Gammon said. She also pointed out that taxpayers "subsidize" schools, sewers and other services offered by the town. "We're not subsidizing any (one) area — taxpayers in Andover subsidize all services."

FinCom Delays Decision

Citing a lack of information on which to base their decision, the Finance Committee has taken no position on a proposed $3.2 million downtown parking garage, Article 55 on the warrant.

"We didn't feel that it's tied down to our satisfaction at this stage," FinComm Chairman Ruth Dunbar explained this week. "There are a lot of dangling strings."

On Saturday the committee voted to recommend approval or disapproval of articles on the warrant at town meeting.

Town administrators presented the committee with their plans for Article 55 last Wednesday night.

"We didn't feel we have adequate information for us to vote on," the chairman said. "It would be premature for us to take a position."

Dunbar said the committee was "not faulting anybody" for the lack of detailed information on the plan, which calls for swapping the town lot behind Town Hall for the Heartland Jr. property, because it is a "last-minute" proposal.

The finance committee's concerns about the "lack of planning" for the garage include several question marks, Dunbar said: the actual final cost of the garage, which she said could add up to $4.5 million; the number of spaces the garage would actually include; and whether approving the land swap would compel the town to build a garage.

FinComm members questioned other aspects of the plan as well: the "underpinnings" of the Heartland site, which once housed a car dealership; potential drainage problems at the site, where Rogers Brook has caused trouble in the past; and whether shoppers, out-of-town commuters or downtown employees would use the garage.

The chairman added that other municipal lots, including one in Lawrence, have proved "far from successful."

Cable TV To Be On By April 1

Rollins Cablevision, soon to be providing cable television in Andover, will offer a variety of programming at individual price levels.

Construction of the cable system is now 90 percent complete, Rollins officials said last week, and the service is scheduled to be turned on by April 1.

The first level of service, Tier I, will offer Cable Channels 2 through 13, with educational, municipal and religious programming, as well as specialty channels with news, weather and sports. Tier I will cost $2.95 per month, and must be purchased in order to receive any other cable service.

The next level, Tier II, will offer Cable Channels 16 through 27, which include all local off-air stations (such as WBZ, Channel 4; WCVB, Channel 5; and WSBK, Channel 38) at an additional $3.05 per month.

Tier III, Cable Channels 30 through 37, includes distant signal stations such as WTBS-Atlanta and CKSH-Canada, and will cost an additional $1.95 per month. FCC regulations require that all local off-air channels in Tier II must be carried in order to receive Tier III.

The Sports Tier and Family Tier will be offered for an additional $1.95 per month

Townsmen Photos By Maria Iacobo

An Unacceptable Precedent

Voters at town meeting this year will be asked to establish a precedent in accepting a street that basically amounts to a private driveway.

While that obviously oversimplifies the matter, acceptance of Shattuck Road would represent placing the responsibility for maintenance of that thoroughfare on the town.

The street carries traffic to industrial plants located off Shattuck Road, which runs off River Road.

It has been general town policy not to publicly accept streets serving industrial areas, or even apartment or condominium complexes.

The matter was first considered several years ago when apartment complexes began being proposed in Andover. With such developments there came networks of streets within the complex. When initially presented for zoning acceptance, the townspeople were informed that utilities and roadways would be the responsibility of the development owners and not the town. But, shortly after completion and occupancy there were attempts to offer the streets for acceptance.

On recommendations of Andover administrators, street acceptance was rejected based on the increased costs to the town to provide the necessary maintenance and in particular snow removal.

The same conditions apply to the industrial parks in the community.

While the entrance of industry into town has represented a considerable improvement to our tax base, and the firms have proven to be an asset to the community, it would seem an inopportune time to break an established precedent and allow public acceptance of an industrial park road.

Acceptance would, of course, open the gates for not only the apartment complexes mentioned previously, but for other industrial areas of West Andover and Lowell Junction.

Public street acceptance carries with it the total maintenance of the street by the town. Snow plowing is probably the most obvious part of such municipal responsibility, but the town would also be required to make repairs and effectively maintain the street in a manner similar to any residential street in the community.

Despite attempts by some developers to have the town handle plowing operations in apartment area in the past, the town has successfully avoided assuming this additional responsibility.

The same is true for the industrial parks, where either the major industrial tenant or the corporate park ownership provides the service.

As matters currently stand, Andover's responsibility ends at the street line, in this particular case at the intersection of River Road and Shattuck Road.

It seems justifiable to maintain that policy.

While industry contributes much to the community, both in taxes and civic participation, the additional burden which would be placed on the town's resources during a time of required cut-back in services seems to dictate a rejection of the request.

Basically it represents establishing an unacceptable precedent.

The Public Forum

Retain The Parking Lot

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

This is a plea to retain the town parking lot behind Town Hall. I believe that that parking area, centrally located and providing short-term parking right where it is now, is one of the reasons that Andover has a vigorous commercial center used extensively by local residents.

We hear about commuters needing parking, business people needing parking, restaurant patrons needing parking, but not about the needs of local residents doing their routine errands in town.

Andover center is a fine place to bank and shop because if there is not a place to park on Main Street (as is often the case), one can usually find a spot on Barnard Street or Park Street or in the Town Hall parking lot. If there are no places, you can easily circle around, and because the time limit is enforced, some cars are usually leaving. Errands to nearby food stores, hardware stores, banks, drug stores, the fabric store, etc., are quickly accomplished; bulky purchases can be deposited easily in your car. The person with small children is able to do her or his errands with minimum hassle. Shopping in Andover is pleasant, easy and no big deal.

Without the Town Hall lot and with parking available only at the Heartland location, the stores on or near Main Street will seem a long way off. A person might not park there to go all the way to the hardware store for one light bulb or for a large bulky purchase either. The next trip to a shopping mall might seem an easier time to look at new fabrics. Who will carry a baby and coax a four-year-old through the rain all the way to the fish market? How could that same shopper go to several other stores and then carry all those bundles, plus the baby, back to the parking garage?

The proposed land swap is a drastic change. Much more thought should be given to how the stores and present parking lot are being used by customers of local businesses. Our business district is not a Quincy Market where people go for diversion, food and perhaps one purchase; it is the place local residents go to do their routine errands (which involves carrying bundles to the car).

Let us retain the present strategically located, limited time parking lot. Let's make it attractive with trees and benches (and keep enforcing the two-hour limit—perhaps it should be only one hour). The open area there is aesthetically pleasing and the Town Hall building is a picturesque focal point. A new overall plan for Park Street, Barnard Street and the parking lot might make it an even more usable and attractive space. Let the Heartland developers go ahead with their original plan (which I hope will provide for some parking and which should be integrated with the present commercial area and the town parking area). And have the town build its new parking lot or garage to serve long-term parkers somewhere on the edge of the business area (such as originally proposed in the library addition complex).

Then we will continue to have a pleasant, prosperous and very usable center of town.

Support For Traditional

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

As a parent of three children I am writing in support of the Traditional Elementary Education Program. The potential elimination of this program is shortsighted and would reduce the quality of education in Andover. The Traditional Program offers a high quality, structured education that builds strong study habits children will need later on in school life. Just as important this single class environment allows a child to build a strong child-teacher relationship based on respect for authority which is essential in today's world.

Offering this program is one of the basic education policy decisions established by the school committee. Its elimination should not come as a way to bring a budget into line. There are many other areas where expenses could be cut, if necessary. None of the alternative decisions will be popular or easy to make. However, the alternatives do have such a direct impact on the quality of education being provided our children. I ask that you give the quality of basic classroom education your highest priority.

I am concerned with a school administration that suggests eliminating such a basic program to save (if anything) such a relatively small amount of money. It is clear that their priorities are not in the best interest of basic quality education. It only makes one question: just what is the administration out to save?

As a citizen and taxpayer of a town that prides itself on its school system, I ask all involved to set their priorities first on the education delivered in the classroom. This, I am sure, will lead to a decision to maintain and promote the Traditional Program.

Traditional Parents—Where Are You?

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I would like to address this letter to the parents of the children in the Traditional Program at West Elementary School in Andover.

At a time when this program is in fear of being abolished, it is imperative for all of you to come forth and show your support.

It seems that our program is being faced with its ultimate challenge and we must either show support for it or lose it. I personally feel the Traditional Program is being depicted as some sort of extra curricular activity rather than the "under-rated" mode of education which is important to so many children. I understand that the number of students presently in the program is a mere 256, but I truly believe that if Traditional were not included in the proposed budget cuts every year and if it were just as securely incorporated into the Andover School System as the Contemporary Program, more children would be in it and benefit from its valuable qualities.

I ask that if you feel strongly about keeping this program for your child or to any of you who have considered enrolling your child into this program, let someone from the School Committee or the administration hear from you. We all have different reasons for placing our children in Traditional and hearing these reasons may help justify its existence.

If you can attend the School Committee meetings, stand up and state your feelings. You will be helping to preserve a program certainly worth fighting for.

"A Question Of Democracy"

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Andover town meeting's warrant continues to be burdened with a flawed assumption. It's assumed that somehow the warrant's contents are the province of OSCM (Office of Selectmen, its Counsel and its Manager). That is incorrect.

Just as a governor has no legal control over what bills are scheduled in the legislature, even if unconstitutional, or a president over business to be conducted by Congress, so there is no power given to OSCM to advise and consent, let alone dictate what may be in a town meeting warrant. (The OSCM can act only with the advice and consent of town meeting.)

After any action is taken, then it falls to the state's office of attorney general to declare an action acceptable; but even it may be incorrect.

Should OSCM continue its outlandish usurpation, then town meeting has little recourse but to improve its by-laws by establishing an office for its own counsel and charging its costs to the selectmen's counsel's office.

But, of more consequence, is the possible mounting liability against the town's taxpayers being witlessly nourished by OSCM's actions.

It was improper of OSCM, some time ago, to fundamentally modify the scope of town meeting by changing an implied by-law respecting its ability to conduct business and doing so without the advice and consent of town meeting. This is a matter that may be set "aright" by the General Court; but it may now do so only by paying any costs that may have accrued.

In Andover it's a good thing the democracy has sources of nourishment other than OSCM; otherwise, the slow and steadily reduced diet OSCM has long scheduled for it, ever since the advent of town manager government, would have killed it.

Anyhow, it is foolhardy for OSCM to continue to prohibit the "transaction of any other business that may legally come before the meeting."

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Religion is a weapon in strife-torn Guatemala

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — Pope John Paul's recent Central American tour focused attention on a seldom-mentioned aspect of the strife in that area of the world: Religion has become a subtle but significant factor in the fighting.

This is especially true in Guatemala, where Protestant evangelism is pitted against the still-dominant Catholic Church. Efraim Rios Montt, the army general who seized power in Guatemala last year, is a born-again Protestant fundamentalist. His goal is nothing less than the conversion of his countrymen from Catholicism to evangelism.

This partly explains Rios Montt's deliberate insult to the Vatican just two days before the pope arrived in Guatemala. Six leftist guerrillas were executed despite the Vatican's pleas to stay the executions out of respect for the pontiff.

How does Rios Montt expect to wean his devoutly Catholic people away from their church? For one thing, the Catholic Church is deeply divided. The pope and his conservative supporters have forbidden priests to take part in political activism.

But many parish priests and nuns believe in what they call "liberation theology" — church activism to help the poor and the oppressed. Since that's what the leftist guerrillas say they're fighting for, too, the Marxists and the priests are often allies against the right-wing forces. In fact, Rios Montt has publicly blamed Catholic priests for instigating acts of terrorism.

Rios Montt apparently sees the link between the priests and the Marxists as a golden opportunity. He is believed to feel he can kill two birds with one stone — wiping out the leftists and destroying the church's grip on his countrymen at the same time.

To accomplish this twin goal, Rios Montt has adopted the unsuccessful American policy in Vietnam — "winning the hearts and minds" of the native population. Here's how it works: The peasants are rounded up and put in camps guarded by the army. That cuts the guerrillas off from their peasant support. The army then mops up the guerrillas.

Meanwhile, the peasants are being re-educated — from Catholicism to Protestant evangelism. They are told that Rios Montt will save them from the "Marxist priests."

Rios Montt's ambitious plan is already under way. And he is receiving supplies for the refugee camps from his fundamentalist friends in the United States. Rios Montt numbers evangelists Jerry Falwell and Pat Thomas among his friends and supporters. An evangelist group called "Youth with a Mission" has been raising funds in this country and has already shipped supplies to Rios Montt for his so-called

"pacification and development" program.

TAKING NAMES: There have been whispers inside the Environmental Protection Agency about an ominous "green book," which supposedly contains the secret notes that the agency's chief legal officer has been keeping on key employees.

According to the rumors, chief counsel Robert M. Perry has been rating employees on political matters. His subordinates have seen him watching people and making notes in a private notebook. It became known as the "green book."

The rumors about secret political ratings reached Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., who is investigating the Environmental Protection Agency. He asked Perry about the "green book." Perry flatly denied keeping any such list.

We've seen portions of the so-called "green book" and can report that Perry was not lying. The notebook was kept, not by Perry alone, but by three EPA officials. Their notes are listed under the heading, "Personal Rating Deductions" and cover about 15 employees. It could be referred to as a demerit system. Here's a sampling:

— The EPA's in-house expert on conflict-of-interest was docked 25 points for neglecting to set up a briefing on his subject.

— One employee got 50 demerits for failing to tell Perry about a briefing with the Olin Corporation.

— Another employee was socked with 25 demerits for being late with a memo to Perry.

— And yet another employee earned 50 demerits by failing to respond promptly to a request for information.

The notes had nothing to do with political matters, and they weren't compiled in a single book — green or any other color.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: Chancellor Helmut Kohl's conservative government won a resounding victory in the West German elections and that's good news for the U.S. intelligence community. Our sources say that Kohl is working behind the scenes for closer ties between American and West German intelligence agencies. The newly appointed chief of West Germany's secret service, Eberhard Blum, was his nation's top spy in the United States for the past 12 years.

— The Joint Economic Committee of Congress has issued a report confirming that the Defense Department has been using deceptive budget figures to make it appear that the Pentagon is saving money. A committee analyst also circulated a confidential document in which the Pentagon's budget manipulations were described as "an incredible deception ... (and) an acknowledged major exception to normal practice."

Unlike the cool pastel bathroom colors of past decades, today's baths are often being tiled with down-to-earth neutrals. Ruddy browns, dove grays, buttermilk and almond are but a few of the new shades that are easy on the eyes. They are also easy to maintain. Whether glazed or unglazed, tiles are a snap to clean with a damp towel. Also, a variety of new shapes make it easy to tile small spaces. Corner and edging detail provide a polished look. Watch for matching bathroom fixtures when selecting tile colors for a remodeled bathroom. The new colors also make towel and shower curtain selection easier.

At WINDSOR KITCHENS we take bathroom designing just as seriously as kitchen designing. With so many exciting and vibrant colors to choose from, you'll have no problem in coordinating the master bath, half-bath, or powder room. At WINDSOR KITCHENS we can solve all your bathroom or kitchen needs. Call us at 372-3444, 9-5:30 Mon-Thurs, 9-3 Fri., 9-5 Saturdays and we are also available for appointments in the evening. All-Star Greg Sacco Named MVP

Greg Sacco was named Most Valuable Player by his Andover High School varsity hockey teammates recently at the annual awards banquet, sponsored by the Hat Trick Club, at the Elks Club on South Main Street. Sacco has also been selected by the Merrimack Valley Conference coaches to the All-Conference hockey team. It is the first time in eight years that a player from Andover has been so honored.

Former Boston Bruins great Derek Sanderson was guest speaker and proved to be a lively and snappy raconteur. He spoke on a variety of subjects, but parents were particularly interested in the following:

On violence in hockey: "There are many contributing factors in fighting in hockey. One is the attitude of the coach. Helmets and face masks, although tremendous safety tools, have encouraged high sticks, etc. One of the worst offenders is the media and the way it details the fights at the expense of reporting the goals, assists, playmaking and goaltending aspects of the game."

"Violence is just a poor substitute for talent."

Other guests included School Committee member Bob Smith and Athletic Director Richard Swift. Hat Truck Club President John Sacco also expressed appreciation to "those great friends of Andover hockey, Ruth and Leo Gravelle."

Coaches Peter Grogan and Mike Murnane spoke about each player and presented several awards. Unsung Hero went to sophomore defenseman John Jones, while Most Improved Player was sophomore Tom Mar-

South Takes Intermediate Title

South A is the new champion of the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue Division following action last week at the West Junior High and South School gyms.

South A (9-0) remained undefeated by stopping Christ B 52-27 and clinched first place with one week left to play when Ballardvale A rallied in the fourth period to gain a 37-36 victory over second-place St. Robert's E (7-2) to eliminate their chance for the title.

In other games, West Parish B edged South B 15-13. St. Robert's F toppled Temple Emanuel 19-10. St. Robert's C nipped St. Robert's D 28-27 and Ballardvale B overpowered St. Augustine's C 48-6.

South A, 52-27

Christ B stayed within striking distance for three quarters, but South A, led by Chris Eggert, broke the game wide open on the strength of a 20-2 fourth-period explosion.

South A held a slim 70-6 lead after one quarter, fell behind 21-20 at half-time, but with a 12-4 run took a 32-25 lead after three quarters.

Egert finished with 20 points, including eight in the pivotal final stanza, Jim Hendry chipped in 10, Steve Napolitano 8, A.J. Boutin 4, Dana Orlando 4, Steve Flanders 4 and Brett Cox 2.

Other members of the South A championship team who played well throughout the season were Chris Parker, Leo Sorrie and Bill Korohmas.

Kaios Ryan was top marksman for Christ B with 13 points, Ken Gable added 11, and Chris McBride converted a free throw. The Christ team was also credited with two points in the first period when a South player inadvertently scored at the wrong basket.

James Robinson, Dave Hughes, Todd Abernathy, Chris McBride, Steve Mollineaux and Matt Kelley were other Christ B standouts.

Ballardvale A, 37-36

This one was a barn-burner from start to finish as St. Robert's E held slim leads of 10-6, 20-16 and 28-24 at the first three checkpoints.

Ballardvale A then followed the scoring of Andy Meckel, Angel Baez, Jim Ward and Mike Mooney for a 13-8 last quarter surge to capture the one-point decision.

Mooney and Ward shared scoring honors with 12 points apiece, Meckel added 7, Baez 4 and Tony Rivera netted a single basket.

Meredith Fisk also played well for Ballardvale A.

Matt Perry had a phenomenal game for St. Robert's E, scoring a personal career and league season-high 26 points, Mike Cincotta netted 4 and solo buckets were pocketed by Dan French, Dan Moynihan and Jeff Landry.

Turning in hustling defensive efforts for SRE were Martine Kelley, Jonathan Merenda, Mike Kelley, Matt Moynihan and Erik Cincotta.

West Parish B, 15-13

Chris Gray pumped in six fourth-quarter points to lead West Parish B to a come-from-behind victory over South B.

South B led 5-3 after one period, 9-3 at half-time and 10-7 after three, but an 8-3 last quarter run by West B proved decisive.

Gray finished with 8 points for the winners, John Hess chipped in 5 while Fred Hohn had a key fourth-period basket.

Tricia Doyle, Reed Newton and Joanna Hohn also played well for West B.

Billy Batchelder chalked up 6 points for South B. A.J. Boucher added 5 and Erik Tupper and Jonathan Usher converted free throws.

Bryan Boucher, Kyle Hovious, Steve Poor, Dave Greenwood and Andrew Hager were defensive stalwarts for South B.

St. Robert's F, 19-10

St. Robert's F used a balanced six player scoring attack to gain their seventh win in ten decisions.

Temple Emanuel led 6-5 after one stanza, but Mark Shwetz, Billy Tobin and Stephen Spinelli spearheaded an 8-2 SRF surge that gave that club a 13-8 halftime advantage and they increased it to 15-8 after three quarters.

Shwetz led the victors with 6 points, Tobin and Mark Green flipped in 4 points apiece, Kevin Murphy and Spinelli notched fieldgoals, while Jacqueline Kupa had a charity toss.

Shaleen Cassily also played a strong game for the winners.

Mike Englehart led the Temple counter-attack with six points, while single baskets were scored by Mark Leinson and Andy Greenstein.

Also playing well for TE were Gary Witover, Stephen Gack and Jay Forlizzi.

St. Robert's C, 28-27

Key fourth-quarter points by Mike Hein (4),

Tim Martin (4) and Patrick Hayes (2) were instrumental in St. Robert's C nipping St. Robert's D.

The C-team grabbed leads of 12-6 after one period and 18-14 at half-time.

The D-crew, with some fine defensive work, had a 7-0 advantage in the third quarter and entered the final stanza ahead 21-18, but the C-squad outpointed them 10-6 over the last six minutes to eke out the win.

Scott Clementi paced the SRC attack with 8 points, Hein and Martin finished with 6 points apiece, Hayes added 4, Chris Jarek 2 and Mike Ferrantino 2.

Brett Hammond led seven SRD players in te scoring column with 8 points, George Willard chipped in 5, John Matto- la 4, Paul Salafia 4, while Scott Frieze, Marc Selvi-

Andover Skiers On Top

Through the efforts (shoveling, packing and grooming trails) of host club Bethel. The Bill Koch Youth Ski League's Regional Finals were held as scheduled in Bethel, Maine, on March 5 and 6. Fourteen districts from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and all of New England sent their top competitors in each age division to compete for the number one Junior Nordic area in the east.

District 7 (of which Andover is a member), the so-called Banana Belt (due to the minimal yearly snowfall) came out on top with a total of 294 points (106 more than the second place district) in the regional event which includes crosscountry racing, ski jumping and nordic combined events. Andover's only qualifying entrant, Michael Costello of Vine Street, placed 11th in a field of 50 competitors in the Boys' Class V Division (ages 8 & 9) 2.5 km. cross country race. Less than 55 seconds separated the top 13 competitors in this boys' age division. Costello was also a member of the district's relay team which placed seventh in a field of 26 teams in the regional finals event.

The local nordic club will hold its annual awards ceremony on Wednesday, March 23, at Vin and Cindy Blandini's home on Johnson Street, North Andover. All club members receive a medal for various categories while the top three skiers receive trophies for their efforts in district competition. Movies of this year's regional events will be shown and refreshments served to close the 1982-83 nordic season.

West Parish Record Unblemished

By Rick Harrison

West Parish A completed an undefeated season and talented Mark Tucker of Christ Church captured the individual scoring championship, highlighting the final round of Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division action last week at the West Elementary school gym.

West A, which had clinched the team championship the previous week, had a mighty struggle with co-runnerup St. Robert's B before emerging with a come-from-behind 34-29 triumph to wrap up a perfect 10-0 campaign.

Tucker and primary challenger Mark Russell of St. Augustine B went head-to-head in their final games, Tucker netting 12 points and Russell 10 as Christ Church won the game 24-21 and Tucker earned the scoring crown by five points (124-119).

St. Robert's A also ended on a victorious note, trimming St. Augustine A 36-25 as Eric Green led the attack with 14 points.

West A has now won the Gold Division title four straight years, chalking up a combined record of 40-3 over that span, and has also won its last 29 games in succession.

Following Tucker (124 points) and Russell (119) in the battle for scoring honors were Matt Gibson of West A at 110 points, Kevin Henderson of West A at 104, Dave Vickers of West A 87 and Joe Massaro of St. Robert's B 71.

Christ Church, 24-21

C-C capped a fine 7-3 season by nudging St. Augustine B 24-21 in their seesaw struggle.

The winners grabbed an 8-2 first-quarter lead, fell behind 14-8 at half-time, trailed 17-13 after three periods and then rallied for the victory behind an 11-4 fourth-quarter spurt.

Mark Tucker led the assault with 12 points, five of them in the pivotal final period, while John Knowles chipped in 4 points.

Pocketing single baskets for C-C were Matt Corbett, John Russell, Tad Lee and Mark Angelos, the first three scoring in the fourth quarter.

Completing the C-C roster are Eric Williams, Steffan Tomlinson, Bob Ashworth, Matt Abernathy and Dave Lewis.

Mark Russell topped St. Augustine B with 10 points, Mike LeBreck popped in 4, Sean Gill 3, Jose Guerra 2 and Matt Dufresne 2.

Other SAB players are Glenn Fortin, Craig Knight, Mike Flynn and Steve Dillard.

St. Robert's A, 36-25

Nine different players scored points for St. Robert's A, which bolted to a commanding 14-3 first-period lead and then traded baskets with St. Augustine A the rest of the way.

SRA enjoyed a 22-10 halftime edge and a 32-20 advantage after three quarters.

Eric Green emerged as game-high marksman with 14 points for St. Robert's A, eight of them in the big opening stanza and the other six during the third period.

Kevin Foley pumped in 8 points, Tracy Danner 4 and single buckets were delivered by Melanie Danner, Amy DiRocco, Jeff Masse, Billy Martin and Matt Jarek.

Steve and Greg DeVoir converted one free throw apiece in the fourth period.

Also playing well all season for SRA were Danny Fay, Tom Sheehan and Brian Hannon.

Ryan and Kyle Murphy powered the balanced St. Augustine A offense with 7 and 6 points respectively, while Robbie Fineran fired through 4, Scott Lanouette three free throws, Andy Hamel two foul shots, Brian Davies a basket and Pete Caruso a free throw.

Rounding out the St. Augustine A squad were Pat Finn, Dave Lenoe and John Davies.

West Parish A, 34-29

West A trailed by 10 points at halftime and by nine entering the fourth quarter, but the division champs exploded for a 19-4 run in the final seven minutes to subdue St. Robert's B and preserve their undefeated season.

St. Robert's B, which finished 7-3, raced to a 10-4 first-period lead as Joe Massaro poured through eight points.

Josh Malitsky netted five second-quarter points as SRB increased its advantage, and the rivals traded baskets in the defensive third period.

West Parish regrouped in the fourth period as six different players scored and the full-court zone press keyed the furious come-from-behind rally.

Dave Vickers sparked the West A attack with 11 points, six of them in the fourth period, while Kevin Henderson was also instrumental with 9 points and numerous rebounds.

Squirt A's In Comeback Win

Andover's Squirt A hockey team slumbered through the first period in their game with Tewksbury, but awoke with a vengeance over the last two periods to pull out a 5-4 thriller. The win finished a fine week for Andover in which they went 3-1-1 against some strong competition.

Andover 5 - Tewksbury 4

In the first period Tewksbury got all the breaks and all the goals to take a 4-0 lead.

Andover' comeback started halfway through the second period when Eddie Chaisson flipped one home on a rebound with assist going to Jonathan Shine and Michael DiStefano. The comeback picked up more momentum just before the second period ended when Chaisson made a great rush after taking an outstanding clearing pass from Bryan Smith. His blistering shot was kicked out by Tewksbury's goalie, however. An alert Sean Darwin fired home the rebound to close the gap to 4-2 as the period ended.

The third period was all Andover. Chaisson's wrist shot off a nice feed from Todd Allard made the score 4-3 with ten minutes left. Colin Nix's backhand pass sent Brian Lane in on a breakaway. The defenseman made a great shift to beat the goalie and tie the game at 4-4. With only three minutes to play DiStefano was sent in alone by Chaisson and his quick wrist shot was too much for the Tewksbury goalie to handle.

Andover 6 - Salem 2

Andover started fast in their game with Salem scoring four first-period goals. Gary Bleszinski started the scoring just two minutes into the contest as he stole a clearing pass and whistled one into the top corner unassisted. Sean Darwin was next as he slapped home a rebound from in front of the net. Eddie picked up the assist. Bryan Smith continued the assault on the Salem goal at the nine-minute mark as he rifled a wrist shot halfway up the net. Chaisson and Colin Nix were credited with assists. Nix closed out the first-period onslaught, beating the goalie with a quick, accurate wrist shot with Brian Lane assisting.

After Salem closed to 4-1 in the second period, Bleszinski fired home his second goal, taking a great pass from Jonathan Shine. Second period score was Andover 5 - Salem 1.

Andover 3 - Peabody 2

Andover played a close checking defensive game against Peabody and came away with a hard-fought 3-2 victory. John Mellilo, Eddie Chaisson and Brian Lane scored with Jimmy Morris and Gary Bleszinski picking up assists. Peter Arthur, Jonathan Shine and Todd Allard all played exceptional games on defense.

Andover 4 - Neponset 8

Despite the lopsided loss to Neponset, there were some bright spots for Andover. In particular the aggressive play of Sean Darwin and Brian Lane. Both boys played well and each scored two goals for their effort.

West Parish

the stretch, Chris Lane pocketed three points including a clutch breakaway basket near the end, and Dave Carnes swished a second-period fieldgoal.

Keith Abernathy actually put the game away for the champs, calmly converting two free throws in the final minute that turned a shaky 30-29 advantage into a more stable 32-29 lead.

Matt Gibson, although limited to a season-low three points, produced several key steals and assists in the final period.

Also playing well in this game and throughout the year for the champs were Craig Costanzo, Stefan Kelly and Chris Kew.

Massaro finished the contest as high scorer with 12 points, while Ma-litsky added 5 points for St. Robert's A, Paul DeMarco and Brad Reghitto notched 4 each, Mike Faraci 2 and Brendan McGrail 2.

Massaro also dominated the boards against the smaller West A crew.

Completing the SRB team are James Murphy, David Van Olinda, James Spinelli, Jerome Guerard and Mike Smith.

Andover Hockey Association

PeeWee A

Andover 1 - Revere 1

Andover came up with a tie against a good Revere team in a game which proved to be a defensive struggle with neither team being able to get the advantage. Revere broke on top in the first period out of a scramble in front of Andover's net at the seven-minute mark. For the remainder of the game, Pat Breen, David Sopp, Johnny Gilmartin and Joey Lyons closed down rush after rush and cleared out in front of goalie Berberian very well.

Andover outshot Revere 16-13 and had somewhat more consistency than they did. Revere's goaltender was able to handle the first shots and did not allow any rebounds. Andover's offensive lines were effective at both forechecking and backchecking to help the defense. Andover's only score came early in the third period when Robert Stoltz tipped the puck behind Revere's defensemen. Brent Raftery picked it up just outside Andover's blue line and fired it at the goalie. The puck dipped as it reached the goalie, hit the inside of his left pad and deflected into the net. This tied the game at one each and despite hard play on both sides, this is the way it ended.

Stoneham 3 - Andover 2

Andover lost in the closing moments of the third period in this game. Andover had had a relaxing week and started slow.

Stoneham broke in on a 2-on-1 and executed well in front of Andover's net to beat the goalie. Two minutes later Andover committed a penalty and Stoneham scored through a screen from the point on a power play. Pat Breen, Dave Sopp, John Gilmartin and Joey Lyons on defense were successful in shutting down Stoneham's offense. From this point on goalie James Berberian made several good saves during the last eight minutes and kept the score at 2-0 at the end of the first period.

Ballardvale B, 48-

Ballardvale B (6-3) bolted to 13-2 first-quarter lead and was never threatened thereafter as seven players contributed points.

Steve Smith powered the victor's attack with 15 points, Devon Arsenault and Bob Nutter swished 8 points apiece, Bartley Parker added 7, Jason Blandini 4.

The second period saw Andover's offense start to get back into the game. The play shifted to Stoneham's zone and their goalie had to make several good stops. The pressure was sustained and Andover finally got the puck in. The line of Brent Raftery, Robert Stoltz and Tom Tormey were back checking in center ice when Tormey stole the puck from a Stoneham, hit Breen with a pass and Breen came in clean and blasted a shot by the Stoneham goalie to make it 2-1.

Third period momentum again favored

Andover. The line of Matt Pothier, Hugh Maginnis and Peter Donegian put good early offensive pressure on Stoneham, but their goalie was up to the task. However, the line of Chris McAnally, Andy Weiner and Doug Bleszinski did get one by him.

However, with less than a minute left, a Stoneham forward slipped by the Andover goalie and the game ended with Stoneham winning 3-2.

Connolly Honored At Austin Prep

Mark Connolly

Mark Connolly, a senior from Andover and the president of the Austin Prep Student Council, was the most honored athlete at the Winter Sports Awards Brunch held at Austin Prep on Sunday, March 6.

Besides being co-captain of the basketball team this past season, the multi-talented Connolly was also a competitor on the winter track indoor team which competed in the Greater Lynn Indoor Independent Track League and a starting guard on the Catholic Conference basketball team, during which he averaged just over five points per game. He broke the school and league record in the 300 yard run in track and placed fifth in the State Meet at Harvard University.

Connolly was awarded varsity letters in track and basketball, the trophy for student-athlete in the basketball program (he ranks in the top five percent of his class) and individual medals for his participation in three school records events in track: the new school record in the mile relay, the shuttle hurdle race and the 300 yard run, a record he broke each time he ran the event.

Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Connolly, 6 Serenity Lane, is an active member of the Austin Prep Athletic and Academic Community as well as the Student Body President and plans to further his education next year at a Jesuit institution of higher learning.

This weekend she placed second in the overall results of the Regional Championships at Crotched Mountain. Teams represented were New York, New Jersey, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Wisconsin and Connecticut.

76ers Finish A.Y.B.L. Undefeated

In the final week of action, Tim Perry's 27 points spearheaded the 76ers tenth straight win as the Supersonics fell 44-37. The Lakers were victorious over the stubborn Knicks by 39-29 and the Celtics grabbed a share of second place by downing the Bucks 46-29.

The 76ers had their hands full as the Sonics trailed by only 18-16 at the half. The Sixers tight defense held the Sonics to a single basket in the third period and the lead increased to 31-18. The Sonics made a determined fourth-period effort, but it was not enough as the 76ers put the game away and with a perfect 10-0 season.

Following Tim Perry in scoring were John Perry with 8, Damon Dyer 5, Rajiv Sheel and Joe Hurley 2 each. Jim Hallice, Jay Lyons and John Twomey all contributed to the win with strong games. The Sonics, finishing in a tie for second place, were paced by Jeff Poor's 19 points. Other scorers were Chris Poor with 6 points, Rich Napolitano 5, Rich Lafond, Larry Middleton, Jim Pfeiffer 2 each and Chris Concemia 1. Jon Yezerski had a strong defensive game for the Sonics.

In another hotly-contested contest, the Lakers came on strong in the second half to win over the hustling Knicks who trailed at the half by only 17-16. The Knicks were unable to stop the Lakers high-scoring trio of Nick Lembo 18 points, Mike Burke 10 and Paul Valcourt 6. Also adding to the total were Eric Shan-non 2, Jay Trepanier 2 and Matt Dorsey a foul shot. Jon Daly was a strong rebounder for the Lakers. The undermanned Knicks, who never stopped hustling all season, were led by Jim Flowers who racked up 13 points and his finest game of the season. Mike Dimeas and Mike O'Connell each hit 6 points while Chris Nelson had 4. Greg Kinsky played a strong defensive game and Jim Marocco rebounded well.

The Celtics started trailing the Bucks early by 10-2, but got going behind Doug Rontondi to finish the half on top 28-13. Rontondi was unstoppable as he poured in 25 points, leading the Celts to the win and a share of second place. Also scoring were Chris Koch with 8, Bill Dutton 5, Mark Carroll 4, Matt McKinnon and Jim Tacy 2 each. Scott Powers helped with numerous steals. Darrin Currier and Patrick Burns led the Bucks' effort with 10 and 7 points, respectively. Other scorers were Scott Wilkins with 6 points, Rob Foley, Brian Gibson and Tim Higgins 2 each.

By Rick Harrison

John Perry and Gary Marotta combined for 25 points to spark St. Robert's A to a season-ending 35-32 triumph over Temple Emanuel, while Dave Argiropoulos won the annual Foul Shooting Contest in Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division action last week at the West Junior High gym.

ST. Robert's A, 35-32

Temple Emanuel, with Eric Shanker and Ron Rosenberg doing the damage, inched ahead 5-4 in the first quarter. Cliff Marotta responded with all the SRA points.

Each Senior Division participant took 40 free throws in the contest. The winner was Dave Argiropoulos of St. Augustine B who pocketed 30 for a major league 75 percent.

Rich Dunn of West Parish was a close second, sinking 28-of-40, while other strong efforts came from Rich Burke of SAB with 27, Jerry Hand of St. Robert's B with 26, Ton Finneran of St. Augustine B with 25 and Erik Frank of Temple Emanuel with 25.

"Rob Best is the strongest skier on the cross-country team," according to Ben McDivitt, head ski coach at St. Michael's College.

Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Best, 173 Main St., Andover, is a freshman mathematics major.

McDivitt added, "Rob has everything a coach looks for in a skier: endurance, skills and an intense desire to win."

The St. Michael's men's ski team finished third in the Eastern Division II championships.

Best was a member of the lacrosse and ski teams at Phillips Academy.

St. Michael's College, founded in 1903 and headed by President Edward L. Henry, is Vermont's largest Catholic, liberal arts and sciences institution.

Andover Counseling Center - Specializing In Marital, Individual & Family Therapy

"Almost every marriage begins with hope and a positive outlook for the future."

Gary Marshall Goldstein, director of Andover Counseling Center, further explains that "individuals are constantly changing and as a result, the marital relationship also is in flux. If communication is not open, then the couple cannot keep up with the changes. As a result, the couple begins to lose the essence of their relationship. Other pressures add to this situation, i.e., children finances, sexual dysfunction and the patterns of living and communicating that each brings to the relationship. One major aspect of marital counseling is to open channels of communication, focusing on the many marital issues.

"Individual therapy efforts are made to deal with the stress from societal demands and early life experiences. It is easy to become confused and overwhelmed by feelings. Sometimes this will lead to both anxiety and depression. If a person remains overwhelmed, a general sense of fear about the future and the present can develop."

Andover Counseling Center attempts to create an atmosphere that allows an individual, couple or family to express feelings and thoughts in an open manner. The goal is to allow a person the opportunity, through professional guidance, to understand his life and gain control and relief as a result of this understanding.

Unlike a large health center, the Counseling Center affords each individual complete privacy both in the waiting room and during the session.

Mr. Goldstein is a licensed psychotherapist trained to work in individual, family and marital counseling. He has over twelve years experience in the mental health field as a therapist and administrator. He is currently doing doctoral research work in the area of stress in the family.

Andover Counseling Center is located in Suite 213 of the Bixby Building on Rte. 114 in North Andover. For an appointment or more information, call Gary Marshall Goldstein at 682-1579 days, evenings, weekends. All contacts completely confidential.

Legal Scrimmage Stalls School Transportation Contract Award

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The School Committee has voted to delay awarding next year's school bus contract until next week, when town counsel will help the committee sort out conflicting legal opinions they were presented with Tuesday night.

Business Manager Francis Paul recommended that the committee award the three-year contract to a fleet service, Andover Transportation Associates, a new company made up of a group of local bus drivers.

With that recommendation, the business manager rescinded one he made two weeks ago, when he suggested the committee consider an Andover owner-operated company, Parent Bus Service, and the Trombly Motor Coach fleet service of North Andover.

Although those companies were the low bidders, they failed to submit certified checks as bid deposits, as the bid specification required, Paul told the committee this week.

That left only Andover Transportation and Special Transportation, an Andover owner-operated company run by Dorothy Piercy, as qualified bidders. Paul recommended Andover Transportation because he said a fleet can offer more efficient and more flexible service.

Certified checks were required to bind the bid until the town could secure a performance bond on each bidder, a new element of the bid specifications, the manager explained. "The need for a certified check is critical. We are concerned with the principle — not the individuals involved," he noted.

Paul told the committee that Parent had submitted a cashier's check, and Trombly, a broker's check. Town Counsel Alfred Daniels found that neither was a certified check, and those companies therefore had not conformed to bid specifications. Daniels said those two bidders should be considered ineligible, according to Paul.

When Chairman Richard Neal opened the bid discussion to the audience, four attorneys rose to offer their legal opinions on the bid process.

Atty. Timothy Hatch, representing Andover Savings Bank, which issued the cashier's check for Parent, said a cashier's check is the equivalent of cash, and payment cannot be stopped on a cashier's check.

Atty. Gerald Cohen, representing Parent, said it was in the "best interests of the community" to stay with Paul's original recommendation, because it would save the schools $200,000 for a five-year contract. "If you hang yourself up on a legal technicality, you're spending $200,000 more on your bus contract," he said.

Legal counsel for Trombly, Atty. John Bryden, told the committee they have the right to waive "irregularities" in bids, and advised them not to get "bogged down on one technicality." The Trombly bid would save the town $89,954 for a three-year contract, he said.

But Atty. James Sweeney, representing Special Transportation, said that company had filed "the only legitimate bid"; the other companies failed to meet the bid specifications by not describing their equipment as required, he said. He added that the town could expect court action if the bid is not awarded to his client.

And Atty. Richard Asoian, representing Andover Transportation, said a cashier's check is not the equivalent of a certified check, because payment can be stopped on a cashier's check. He argued that the bid should be awarded to his client because Andover Transportation did comply with the bid specifications.

After listening to Paul's presentation and the attorneys' comments for 90 minutes, the committee decided they needed time to think about what they had heard and discuss it with town counsel. They indicated that they would discuss the bids next Tuesday; the committee has an April 7 deadline for awarding a bid.

Consultant To Seek Extension

Ronald Curran, the planning consultant hired to help update Andover's comprehensive plan, will ask town officials to extend his contract for an additional three to six months, he said Monday.

Curran told the selectmen he believes his work here will not be done by the end of June, when his contract expires, because the planning project "hasn't moved as rapidly as I anticipated."

The project is currently in the hands of a group of task forces, made up of various town officials and townspeople, who will make recommendations for the town's future. The task forces were formed to bring citizens' views into the planning process.

Some of the groups were "slow getting started," Curran said, so the project has fallen behind schedule. However, most of the groups are "doing very well" at the moment, he added.

Each task force meets twice a month to discuss such topics as housing, education and recreation. The recommendations of the largest group, on land use, will be incorporated into the major part of the final plan — about 60 percent of it, according to Curran.

The consultant said the groups are expected to present their recommendations to him by late spring. Curran and Jonathan Gilmore, Community Development and Planning director, will then spend the summer compiling and analyzing those recommendations into a master plan, and resubmit it to the task forces for their review by early fall.

Town boards and commissions, including the selectmen and Planning Board, will also review the final proposal. Town meeting action may be required on some recommendations: changes in the zoning bylaws, for instance.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said the idea of forming task forces to look at the town's present state and future needs was "an experiment" that has proved, for the most part, successful. Task force meetings have brought together people of diverse interests and opinions, and have helped group members understand the workings and limitations of town government, he indicated.

And while not every task force may produce a comprehensive list of proposals, the manager said, "at least they've identified the concerns."

To Appear In Dance Ensemble

Andrea Feier, a 1981 graduate of Andover High School, will perform with the Julliard Dance Ensemble, Thursday, March 17, and Friday, March 18, and in a different program Sunday, March 20, and Monday, March 21, in the Julliard Theatre, 155 West 65th St., New York City.

A student at the Julliard School, Andrea has studied with the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre. All proceeds from these concerts will benefit the Julliard Dance Scholarship Fund.

Andrea is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feier, 10 College Circle.

The Foreign Film Festival at Memorial Hall Library will feature "Dodeskaden" on Friday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m. This Japanese film depicts life in a Tokyo shantytown—a tragicomic affirmation of life through hope and dreams. Asthma Program

"Asthma: A Family Approach" will be presented at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington for parents and their asthmatic children on Wednesday, March 30, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Joel G. Bleier, a Reading allergist, will discuss asthma in children. Parents will meet with Dr. David S. Solomon, Regional Health pediatrician, adolescents will meet with Dr. John A. Myers, pediatrician, and elementary school children will meet with Dr. Bleier and Joni Santos, R.N., pediatric nurse.

The program will include a free pulmonary function test for each child, by appointment only, beginning at 6 p.m. Advance registration is required.

According to the American Lung Association, asthma is the most common chronic disease in children. It is a lung condition that causes the air passages of the lungs to narrow, resulting in breathing difficulty.

Many families feel added stress in having an asthmatic child, especially at the time of an attack, and asthmatic children often experience feelings of isolation due to limited involvement in sports and other physical activities. The Regional Health Center's program will focus on the physical and emotional affects of asthma on the family.

SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS

People who work in the areas of real estate and building are always aware of land-use controls and zoning. Homeowners can also be affected by zoning decisions and stories about them are often front page news.

The zoning board decisions often concern variances (violations okayed because of hardship cases) and special exceptions (special use permitted for listed cases.) We often wonder if there is any kind of a pattern to these decisions. Sometimes it seems that there is a tendency away from variances. Many boards show a decided reluctance to authorize violations, and sometimes it takes some really impassioned pleas of hardship by owners and attorneys to get a variance!

When ordinances are first formulated, however, special exceptions can be anticipated and actually planned for the future. A flexible provision can take care of this. Thus a homeowner can move into an area where there are only homes and maybe a couple of stores. But...there COULD be a provision for a special exception allowing a future shopping center!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

each. The Family Tier includes Cable Channels 39 through 41, with two music channels, MTV and Nashville, along with a cultural channel called Arts. ESPN Sports and USA Network are included in the Sports Tier, carried on Cable Channels 43 and 44.

Rollins will also offer HBO, Cinemax, Showtime, The Movie Channel, Bravo, HTN and SportsChannel, which combined include all the movies, sports and specials available on cable television. They range in price from an additional $6.95 to $10.50 per month; a $1 discount will be offered on most of these services if purchased with Tiers I, II and III.

Residences on the east side of town will be the first to receive detailed information from Rollins in the mail; west side residences will receive the information at a later time. Townspeople will be asked to return a card to Rollins requesting a sales call.

Installation dates will begin on March 28. Installations will be done in two steps: First, Rollins will install the cable from the pole to the television location, but will not hook up the set until their second trip to each household, made after the system has been activated. On a second trip to each home, the company will hook up each television set to a 52-channel remote converter and explain how the system works.

That two-step installation is designed to allow services to be activated for a greater number of customers at one time.

Individual Instruction

To help parents deal with second term report card blues, the Learning Disabilities and Reading Clinic of Arlington and Wilmington is offering individualized instruction in reading, writing and arithmetic. Seven students from Andover have benefitted from instruction at the clinic over the past year.

Diagnostic testing and study skills classes, as well as S.A.T. Prep. for the May 7 S.A.T. exam, will also be offered at nominal fees.

The focus of study skills instruction is to teach students to deal more effectively with their schoolwork.

Clinic teachers hold Master's degrees in their areas of expertise.
